

FELDMANN

Feldmann are two musicians from Catania. They ran this project about 2 years ago. In a couple of months they had collected more than eleven songs, released in 2006 by Stoutmusic

This first full-length named "Watering trees" was recorded in Catania, at Zen Arcade studio with a very lo-fi equipment by the band.

"Watering trees" has guests such as Cesare Basile, Marcello Caudullo, Marcello Sorge, Francesco Cantone and Emiliano Cinquerrui. Recently the two-members band has changed the line-up becoming a trio with Elena Mascolino playing the drums, some toy-piano and drum machine.

The nice mix between guitars, Tazio's and Massimo's voice are predominant in "Come closer" and "A cup of tea", their love for the blues explodes in "Bloos 354" a very lo-fi recording (that characterizes the entire album).

The structure is fragile, a song like "Golden ring" brings the listener to a very intimate feeling that is present in all the tracks of the LP.

Actually Feldmann are recording a new record with Hugo Race that will be released in November 2008.

This winter the band will be on tour to present their new live set enriched by new sounds, percussions and electronics.
